

Roger Touhy Gets Parole

Thug Out After 25 Years; Board Denies Epping Bid

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Roger Touhy, Chicago prohibition era gangster, was granted a parole today by the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board.

NEWSROOM NOTES — We have only one pronouncement to make on the weather — Winter has arrived too soon.

Boy Scouts from Dixon's Troop 85 will cover the town Saturday to sell popcorn. It's a money-raising project to help finance a trip through the West next summer.

The boys are taking an enthusiastic interest in the project, because the camping trip will take them to several of the famed national parks in the West, and the plans also call for attending one of the nationally known rodeos. The popcorn they sell is a Dixon product, too.

The 16th Illinois House District race has been under way for some time. Here's another item: State Sen. Marvin F. Burt, Freeport, who seeks the Republican nomination, will be host to all Lee County GOP committeemen at a dinner in the Nachusa House Nov. 23 at 6:30 p.m. Of course, this is a bid to line up support for the April primary election. Winner of the general election will replace Rep. Leo Allen, who is retiring.

Other men seeking the GOP nomination include Howard Brenner, Ashton, and three Rockford men.

Veterans who move and fail to notify the Veterans Administration are almost certainly going to have check troubles.

It's all the result of new regulations, explained William E. Keith, manager of VA's regional office in Chicago.

Effective Nov. 20, the VA must terminate payments to any veteran once the Treasury gets back two undeliverable checks.

Keith advised veterans who move to do two things:

1. Notify the post office so that checks can be forwarded.
2. Let the VA in on the change at once.

Changes of address must be signed by the veteran and sent to the VA Regional Office at 2030 West Taylor Street, Chicago 12, Ill. Do not send them to the Treasury Department, Keith warned. That starts additional problems.

Confederate Vet to Mark 117th Birthday

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Walter W. Williams is to begin his 117th birthday Saturday with a cup of coffee.

But there has been a change since the last surviving veteran of the Civil War last observed his birthday.

Williams will not fret if his early morning eye-opener is a bit late.

"He's stopped fretting since this last attack of pneumonia," said his daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles. "Until then he would fret if he didn't have his coffee at 5 a.m. sharp. But he has lost so much strength in recent weeks he doesn't even fuss if I am an hour late."

The Confederate veteran probably will spend most of his birthday sleeping. He has left his bed three times in two years.

"He has had pneumonia three times since July and just doesn't show much interest in things any more," said Mrs. Bowles, who has cared for her father the past five years.

The old soldier may sleep through most of it but a big birthday celebration is being planned for Sunday.

"He has asked for lots of music, lots of people, lots of singing and lots of barbecued pork ribs and he'll get all four," Mrs. Bowles said.

She acknowledged, however, her father probably will do nothing more than taste the juice from the barbecue.

The decision means that Touhy, once known as "The Terrible," will gain his freedom from Stateville prison after 25 years behind bars. The board said he will be released as soon as his prospective home and employment have been investigated.

Denies Epping Parole

The board also announced it has denied a parole to Edward A. Epping, imprisoned accomplice of former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge.

Epping is serving two concurrent sentences at Menard Prison in connection with Hodge's theft of state funds. One is 4 to 5 years for conspiracy to defraud the state and the other is 1 to 10 years for confidence game, forgery, embezzlement and larceny.

Touhy, 62, was sent to prison in 1934 on a charge of kidnapping John "Jake the Barber" Factor, now a Beverly Hills, Calif., real estate man.

Maintains Perjured

In his long fight for freedom, Touhy maintained he was convicted on perjured testimony and that Factor faked the kidnapping to avoid extradition to England on a swindling charge.

Factor, however, testified at an Illinois Pardon Board hearing last year that he was kidnapped by Touhy and his pals the night of June 30, 1933, beaten and held captive for 12 days until his wife produced $70,000 ransom.

Touhy became notorious during prohibition days when rival gangs terrorized Chicago and dueling with sawed-off shotguns for beer-running territories.

The parole board said Touhy will be required to serve a parole period under supervision until his sentence expires April 27, 1961.

Touhy received a 99-year sentence on the kidnapping charge. Another term of 199 years was added in 1942 for his part in a prison break, which gained him about two months of freedom.

Stratton Cuts Sentence

In 1957, Gov. William G. Stratton cut the 99-year sentence to 72 years and reduced the 199 years to three. Touhy was given a parole on the kidnapping conviction last year but remained in prison on his other sentence.

Touhy won two days of freedom in 1954 when the U.S. District Court in Chicago held he was sent to prison on perjured testimony. However, a higher court reversed the ruling and Touhy returned to Stateville.

In the case of Epping, one-time office assistant to Hodge, the board said his 4 to 5 year sentence will expire June 10, 1960.

By earning merit time for good conduct in prison, the board said, Epping could appeal for parole again on the 1 to 10 year sentence in March 1962. He has been in prison since 1936.

NOTHING TO DO BUT GRIN AND BEAR IT—Three-week-old Michael Landreville comes under the close scrutiny of his mother, Mrs. Thomas Landreville, 20, and his dentist, Dr. S. Leonard Cutuli, as he prepares to give up the two lower front teeth he was born with at Long Beach, Calif. The extraction—a precaution against the loosely-lodged teeth coming out and being inhaled into the windpipe—went just like the dentist said it would: it didn't hurt, much. (AP Wirephoto)

Rail Express Hearing Opens

Company Says Local Service Has Improved

The Illinois Commerce Commission this morning began a hearing on a complaint against the Railway Express Agency, charging that service in Dixon since the local office was consolidated with Sterling Oct. 1 has deteriorated.

The Railway Express Agency contends that service, not only has not deteriorated, but has improved.

Complainants are the B. F. Shaw Printing Co. and the Dixon Publishing Co.

Company Testifies

Testimony this morning was given by William H. Larson, Galesburg, division manager for Railway Express.

Larson said he believed service had been improved, stating that the Sterling office is open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., while the Dixon office was open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., and that Dixon is now served by two trucks and drivers, instead of one driver-agent.

Larson also said shipments arrive on a 7:30 a.m. train, instead of an 11:15 a.m. train, as when the office was in Dixon.

At present, Larson said, as much as 87 per cent of shipments received are delivered the first day, as against 28 per cent previously.

For Efficiency

In an opening statement, the express company's attorney said the consolidation had been made in the interest of efficiency, which necessitated eliminating duplicate facilities.

The complainants' attorney, Edwin Wadsworth, stated removal of the Dixon office had had a serious effect on the community and its business houses and their ability to serve the community.

The hearing was to be continued this afternoon.

Montana Town Has 34 Below

Blame Big Storm For 15 Deaths In Accidents

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—An arctic blast plunged temperatures far below zero in many parts of the Rocky Mountains today on the heels of a 25-inch snowfall that buried Montana.

Drummond, in the Helena-Butte area of western Montana, recorded 34 below zero, the coldest reading in the nation.

Montana's warmest minimum was 6 below zero at Glasgow. Butte had -33, Helena, the state capital, charted 32 below.

Subzero temperatures also were common throughout Wyoming. Sheridan and Cody in the north each had 18 below. Moorcroft had -14. At Cheyenne, the capital, it was 3 below.

Above Zero

Eastern Colorado temperatures remained slightly above zero. Limon and Akron, the coldest places and near the Colorado-Kansas line, each reported 4 above zero.

Denver was 7 above.

The Continental Divide formed a barrier that moderated temperatures west of the mountains.

At least 15 deaths have been attributed to the massive storm which rushed out of Canada and now has engulfed much of the nation's midsection, from the mountains to the Midwest.

Seven in Montana

Seven deaths within a week have resulted from Montana's whiplash storms. Four were airmen who died in the crash of three jet fighters. Two motorists were killed and a Butte man died of exposure.

Icy roads caused seven highway deaths in Illinois, and another accident took the life of an Iowa motorist.

Two hunters were unaccounted for in mountain terrain near Missoula, in western Montana.

Snow Tapers Off

The snowfall tapered off along southern Montana Thursday night, leaving 20 inches of snow on the ground at Billings.

The Weather Bureau issued heavy snow warnings today for the area from Michigan through Iowa. Snow and freezing rain fell throughout the Midwest and into Kansas and Nebraska.

Travel facilities were slowed and, in some places, suspended. Schools were closed in scores of towns in Montana and Wyoming.

Dick Nixon In Favor of Cranberries

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon continues what he calls a non-political tour today. But politics, not to mention cranberries, is expected to bob up all along the way.

He goes to Appleton, Wis., for a mid-morning panel discussion on world problems at Lawrence College. Then tonight he is in Indianapolis for the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, a journalism fraternity. Nixon will make a talk and answer questions.

He got a big cheer Thursday when Rep. John Byrnes (R-Wis.), in referring to Nixon said: "I wish this meeting was held a year and a half from now and then we might have the President of the United States with us."

Nixon, who never has said he is a candidate, just grinned.

It was a bad time for a top Republican to come to this part of Wisconsin. It's a big cranberry center, and the administration has warned that some cranberries might be contaminated with a weed killer that has caused cancer in rats in laboratory tests. Nixon gallantly came all out for cranberries.

"I certainly expect to have cranberries for both Christmas and Thanksgiving," he said at a news conference.

Rocky Bucking Nixon's Forces

California Warm, But 'Solid for Dick'

By RELMAN MORIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is serenading California today, hoping to open the corral where Vice President Richard M. Nixon has virtually all the state's Republicans tethered.

They like Rockefeller's music but so far there are no signs of a stampede starting.

In Los Angeles, he received a warm, friendly, nowdy-podner type of welcome when he arrived in the state. People turned out in large numbers at a luncheon and a dinner where he spoke. Party leaders talked politics and prospects with him at informal receptions.

A number of influential Californians, known to be staunch Nixon supporters, met him in private receptions.

But — Wherever Rockefeller went, saucer-sized "Nixon Now" lapel buttons met his eye.

A toastmaster's mention of Nixon's name during dinner preliminaries Thursday night touched off a wild, standing, whooping, and-hollering explosion of applause for the vice president.

As for the comments — "I talked with about 50 party workers who met him today," said the Los Angeles County chairman, Alphonzo E. Bell Jr. "Nothing transpired today to change their position."

One of them, who came into the state ahead of the governor, said he has been surprised by the unsolicited offers of support from

Three DHS Students Honored

Three seniors at Dixon High School have been cited for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test given last spring. Each has received a letter of commendation from the sponsoring organization.

Richard W. Burner, William C. O'Connor and Ken Rittersbach received the letters, according to Principal Sheldon Bross.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp., the privately financed organization which awarded the scholarships, said, "While these bright youngsters did not achieve the status of semifinalists in the 1959-60 merit program, they are so outstanding that we wish to single them out for special attention. We send these letters to provide tangible recognition of superior ability, and it is our earnest hope that the recipients will continue their education, and thus benefit not only themselves but the entire country."

Highway Warnings Issued

Three-Inch Snow Blankets Dixon; More Is Predicted

Miserable weather elements —freezing rain and snow—were due to continue in the Dixon area through Saturday, with much colder readings to follow.

The Weather Bureau said freezing rain and drizzle will change to snow tonight. Saturday will see snow flurries, and a high reading in the 20s. The low Saturday night will be about 10 degrees.

All this comes on the heels of a three-inch snowfall which blanketed the city Friday. It was the season's first major snow.

Road Warnings

The combination of the snow and freezing rain brought hazardous driving warnings. Traffic in Dixon has been slowed since the snow began falling Thursday morning, and similar conditions will continue.

Bad driving conditions affect all of Illinois north of a line from Quincy to Danville, according to the Illinois Division of Highways. Seven highway deaths were blamed on the storm, six in the Bloomington area and one in Lake County.

Mercury to Slide —The mercury was expected to slide into the 20s over the northern half of the state by Saturday morning, and the five-day forecast indicated readings averaging 10 degrees below normal for the entire state.

Thursday's snow accumulated to 6 inches in Moline and other northern communities before tapering off during the night. Southeasterly winds short-circuited predicted heavier snows for the Chicago area and sections of the northeast.

The unexpected short-term warmth also turned the snow into slush in the central Illinois River Valley where it had piled up to 4 inches.

Goes Far South

The Weather Bureau said light rain and drizzle would turn to snow deep in southern Illinois tonight. Snow flurries were on tap for the entire state Saturday.

Early morning temperatures were in the middle and upper 20s

U.S. Backs India With Food Sale

WASHINGTON (AP)—India won new evidence today of U.S. support and moral backing in its border row with Red China.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter had told a news conference Thursday that the United States was taking no sides, but later issued a statement saying the Red Chinese, in using force, were "wholly in the wrong."

That word was sent to the U.S. Embassy in New Delhi, India, and given the Indian Embassy here.

New Evidence

New evidence of the U.S. support for India came today in the signing of an agreement for sale of 201 million dollars worth of farm products to India under the surplus disposal program.

Asst. Secretary of State Thomas C. Mann told Indian Minister N. D. Chatterje that he hoped the new U.S. aid pledge and his statement of interest in India's integrity and independence would help clarify the "unfortunate interpretation" put on Herter's remarks at the news conference. Mann added that he had talked to Herter this morning and knew of his "real feelings" toward India.

Unusually Large

The food sale announced today —of unusually large size—is designed to help meet India's urgent food needs.

Under the surplus disposal program the United States finances with dollars the supply of surplus farm products to foreign countries. The foreign countries repay the United States in their own currency which they then often borrow back.

The sale brought to $15½ million dollars the total of surplus farm products sold to India since 1956. India has been the largest recipient.

On Cranberry Scene

Sec. Flemming Now Called 'A Stupid Bureaucrat'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican congressmen from cranberry - growing states blame "a stupid bureaucrat" and "bureaucracy at its worst" for the present cranberry mess.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming's announcement Monday that the government was confiscating two shipments of contaminated West Coast berries has virtually halted sale of cranberries at the peak of the Thanksgiving market season.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass) said at Pawtucket, R.I., Thursday: "The cranberry mess is a good illustration of what happens when a stupid bureaucrat wanders into a field about which his knowledge is limited."

Thorough Investigation

And Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash) said at Seattle he would demand "a thorough investigation of the cranberry mess" when Congress convenes in January. "This appears to be a classic example of bureaucracy at its worst."

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) had no harsh words but joined

THE EVERLASTING LIGHT

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

From the dawn of human history, man has gazed with awe and fascination across the horizon. What secrets are buried in the sea's vast bosom and what strange lands and peoples and adventures are out there beyond the sunset?

The unknown has always presented a mystery and a challenge to mankind. Many have faced it with fear and shrinking. Others have accepted its challenge and have opened up new vistas of human knowledge.

Those who live and search in the Everlasting Light, His Holy Word, need have no fear of what lies beyond the oceans of water, the oceans of human experience, or the oceans of human thought. For the land and the sea are God's, and He rules in the kingdom of men.

Wrecks Kill 6 Within An Hour

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (U.P.) — Highway accidents on snow-clogged roads near Bloomington took six lives and injured several persons within an hour Thursday.

Four members of a Morrow, Ohio, family, were killed when their car skidded in front of a semi-trailer truck. Dead were Harry D. Laymon, 33, his wife, Ida, 31, and her two daughters by a previous marriage, Deborah Saunders, 2, and Pamela Saunders, 1.

The truck driver, William D. Western, 21, of Beason, Ill., was injured. The accident happened on Illinois 136 about 26 miles southeast of Bloomington.

On U.S. 66 near McLean, 13 miles southwest of Bloomington, an auto skidded across the center strip of a divided 4-lane highway and smashed into another vehicle.

Gersom R. Colon, 29, and his wife, Estelle, 26, of Los Angeles were killed and their three young sons were injured. The driver of the other car, Glen Brooks, 59, of Independence, Mo., and his wife, Darlene, 56, were injured.

A snowplow truck following the Brooks car veered into a ditch, but the driver, Joseph Girdler of McLean was not hurt.

In Lake County, Mrs. Winifred Morrow, 53, of Wauconda, was killed when her auto skidded on icy pavement and collided with a truck near Grayslake. The accident happened on Illinois 83 during Thursday's snowstorm.

Mother's Suicide Kills 3 Children

SALEM, Ore. (U.P.) — A Salem housewife, who had been unhappy since her divorce, tucked her three children into bed and then committed suicide. She accidentally killed the three children, too. That's how Coroner Charles Edwards explained the deaths of Mrs. Frank B. Nicholls, 34, and her children, Gregory, 12, Julie, 10, and Melissa, 8.

Edwards said the attractive blonde divorcee parked her station wagon in her closed garage and used a hose to pipe poisonous monoxide fumes from the exhaust to the inside of the vehicle. The fumes killed her and were sucked by an air conditioning system into the upstairs where the children were sleeping.

All four had been dead for several days when friends of the family discovered the tragedy late Thursday.

Nicholls operates a restaurant and nightclub here.

Adamowski Joins Attack On Judge

CHICAGO (U) — State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski has joined his first assistant in criticism of Judge Daniel Covelli of Criminal Court for dismissing 12 jurors unable to reach a verdict in a murder case.

"The courts certainly are not above criticism," said Adamowski. Then he upbraided Covelli for allowing a separate murder trial on a murder charge to William Weber, 16, who had admitted the fatal shooting of John De Priest, 34, a Negro bus driver, July 30. He said 10 other youths also charged with the slaying should have been tried with Weber. All but Weber had demanded bench trials without a jury.

Frank Ferlic, Adamowski's first assistant, was obviously nettled when Judge Covelli declared a mistrial Tuesday after the jury reported it was unable to agree. It had deliberated 5 hours and 25 minutes.

Ferlic said then that "it was a fantastically short time for a jury to deliberate in a case that took nine days to try."

Covelli struck back with the comment that Ferlic was an "irresponsible individual who makes asinine statements."

Adamowski said Ferlic should treat the court's remarks "with silent scorn and not dignity them." In an almost unprecedented move, Covelli called in the dismissed jurors Thursday and in the presence of newsmen asked them if any thought he was unfair in the Weber case. All replied "no." A new trial for Weber has been set for Dec. 7. He is at liberty on $25,000 bond. The other defendants also were released on bonds varying from $10,000 to $15,000.

Police Guard Disc Jockey

CHICAGO (U) — Phil Lind, 39, a disc jockey, is under police guard today after reporting he received telephoned threats because of his broadcasts about payoffs to radio record spinners.

Lind, of Station WAIT, said that four months ago he broadcast an interview with a recording official who said Chicago Disc Jockeys were paid for playing certain records on their programs.

"At that time," Lind said Thursday, "I received only a few crank calls." He said that since the recent congressional investigation of TV quiz shows, "I received about a dozen calls threatening my life and many harmless crank calls."

Lind's wife and his sponsor asked for the escort to and from his South Side home.

Dixon YFC Plans Rally For Saturday

The Greater Dixon Youth for Christ will present "I Found My Messiah" at the monthly youth rally in the West Side Baptist Church on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. "I Found My Messiah" is an inspirational film in sound and color.

This film tells the story of Dave Aaronson and the bitter persecution by Gentile children poured out upon the "Jew Kid". It begins with his childhood and traces his life through the second world war and into business with his brother.

The story unfolds Dave's struggle with prejudice, the bitter memories of childhood persecution and the angry opposition of his family as he tries to answer the question, "What shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?"

A highlight of the rally will be a Bible Quiz between the YFC Clubs of Sterling and Milledgeville High Schools. The quiz will cover the books of I, II, III John.

WHAT IS BAPTISM?
THE MEANING OF THE WORD. The original manuscripts, from which our New Testament was translated, were written in the Greek language. Since most of us are not familiar with the Greek language, we must depend upon men who have made a study of that language to give us the meaning of the words written by the apostles. The English word "baptism" comes from the Greek word "bapto" Greek scholars tell us that "bapto" means to dip, immerse, submerge, or overwhelm. The word can never be correctly translated to mean sprinkling. Therefore, baptism is immersion, for the two words are synonymous.
BAPTISM OF THE ETHIOPIAN. In reading the account of the baptism of the Ethiopian, we find that he and Philip went down into the water, where Philip baptized him, then they both came up out of the water. (Acts 8:27-39) Immersion would require that both men go into the water, whereas sprinkling would not require that either one of them go into the water. Notice that the writer plainly states that both men went into the water. This doesn't absolutely prove that Philip immersed the man from Ethiopia, but it is a strong indication that he did, for it is unreasonable that they should stop the chariot and both wade into the water if Philip intended only to sprinkle a small amount of water on him.
BAPTISM IS A BURIAL. "Therefore we are buried with him by baptism. . . ." (Romans 6:4) "Buried with him in baptism. . . ." (Colossians 2:12) Paul declares that one is buried in, or by, baptism. Can sprinkling, even by the wildest imagination, be likened to a burial?
A SUBSTITUTION? The word "baptism" means immersion, the circumstances indicate that Philip immersed the Ethiopian, and Paul calls baptism a burial. It is therefore evident that Christ and his apostles commanded immersion. If sprinkling or pouring has been substituted for baptism, it has been substituted by man, not God.
THE DIVINE PATTERN. In building a house, or making a dress a person must follow the right pattern or else the finished product will not be what was desired. It is much more important to follow the right pattern in things that are spiritual and have to do with our eternal destination. In baptism, as in everything else pertaining to life and godliness, we should follow the divine pattern as it is revealed in God's Word, for this is right and cannot be wrong. Why not call Bible things by Bible names, and do Bible things in Bible ways?

Hoffa Has Large Plans For Political Activity

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Jimmy Hoffa aims for his new Teamster political organization to be permanent—not just a 1960 challenge to “unfavorable” congressmen.

He plans to build from the bottom up, with a team of 75 paid political organizers. Those men will be strategically placed in 75 key cities.

Examples: Chicago, Phoenix, San Francisco, Detroit, Pittsburgh, New York, Los Angeles, Portland, St. Paul, Butte, Sacramento, Richmond, Dallas, Newport News, Minneapolis, Portsmouth, Seattle, Norfolk, Washington, D. C.

For practical reasons, major Teamster political activity will be in the medium and larger cities. That's because, by and large, such cities are where Teamsters have their greatest strength.

Hoffa aims eventually at running men in local and state elections as well as for Congress.

Teamsters will not only be told to fight candidates they don't like. They will be directed to go out and get men of their own to run in the primaries of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Hoffa talks as though his organization plans to attempt a knockout of some 50 “anti-Labor” congressmen whose margins are narrow, and who live in areas where there's considerable Teamster strength.

Actually, the Teamsters have no such grandiose hopes for 1960.

Their real aim is to help defeat a few key men such as William H. Avera (R-Ohio), and Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.), and thus “put the fear of you-know-what” into the rest of those who voted for the Landrum-Griffin bill.

The purpose, of course, is to make the members of the 1961 Congress less likely to vote against bills which the Teamsters think are crucial.

That's the strategy behind running Teamster-picked men in the primaries. The union political planners figure that these men, though unlikely to win this go-round, can give the “unfavorable” Republican and Democratic candidates enough trouble in the primaries to make them a little more agreeable later.

The Teamsters calculate their membership is now over 1,600,000. And if you count wives, that's somewhere around three million votes, if they're all registered.

More importantly, these voters, being highly concentrated around 75 key cities, if “properly” organized, could theoretically swing ington and the coastal area of California.

Elsewhere, Teamster strength is spotty, strong in some important trucking centers in the South, the Midwest and here and there through the rest of the country.

For 1960, the Teamster drive aims at a kitty of 3.5 million dollars, raised probably by a 15-cent-a-month “voluntary” contribution by the union members.

The Teamster organizational drive starts in earnest in January, 1960. Most-likely national masterminded for the operation is Sidney Zagari, who is now whipping up a detailed political action plan in time to meet the Hoffa-set January deadline.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D. Written for NEA Service

If you go by the ads, you get to think it's easy to kill bacteria. All you do is take a solution that's death to bugs in a test tube and slap it on the skin or in a wound. Or you swish it around in your mouth. Or you gargle with it. Then, quick as a flash, the animated commercial shows how germs roll over and bite the dust like bad Indians in a Western.

Fortunately for bugs but unfortunately for us bacteriologists report that there's more to anti-sepsis and disinfection than the animated cartoon gives you to understand. To be effective in living tissues, a germicide must get to bacteria in a given strength and act on them in that strength for a given length of time. Not only that. The “time-dose relationship” as the kids say, must be relatively harmless to the living tissues in which invading bugs are hiding.

Animated cartoon and bacteriologic reports agree that a given germicide kills bacteria. The difference between their versions, however, is the difference between shooting clay pigeons in a booth at the County fair and hunting man-eating lions and tigers in an African jungle.

It's the difference between the laboratory test tube and the real life test.

• You may burn or cripple local defenses if you use a strong chemical solution such as tincture of iodine or carbolic acid (phenol).

• You may never get the germicide to bacteria in the depths of the tissues if you apply the solution to the surface of a wound that's deeper than it is wide.

• If the wound is penetrating, like one made by a nail or a bullet, painting the skin with germicide is about as useful as trying to wash your feet before you've taken off your shoes.

• If you think you can neither catch an infectious disease nor give your own to others just because you've put antiseptic drops in your nose, sucked on antiseptic lozenges or gargled with antiseptic solution, bah!

• If you think you're helping your defenses by using a dressing that's been brightly colored with a germicide, you're fooling yourself just as our grandpas fooled themselves with asafetida bag.

• If you apply a tight bandage to a treated wound, especially one that's penetrating, you may turn it into a hothouse for tetanus.

4-H Girl Gets Film Contract

By BOB THOMAS, Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Can wholesomeness pay off in Hollywood? Here's a former 4-H Club girl to put that question to the test.

Her name is Shirley Knight and she comes from Kansas and she once raised pigs. That's right—pigs. “And I got blue ribbons for them at the Kansas State Fair,” she says proudly.

She may soon be getting blue ribbons for acting. She is under contract to Warner Brothers and is doing an important role in “The Ice Palace.” The studio has big plans for her.

“I wanted to be an actress from the age of 2,” said Shirley. She and her sister sang duets at gatherings near her Lyons, Kan., home, and this taste of show business whetted her appetite. After high school, she told her father of her yen to try the big time.

“Only after you finish college,” he told her.

He thought the four-year wait would cool her ardor. But Shirley zipped through college in three years. Meanwhile, she did a TV show, reported for the Wichita Beacon and sang with a band three times weekly. And she graduated with top honors!

One of her interview subjects for the paper was Editor Norman Cousins, who told her to try Broadway if she wanted to be an actress. But her father considered New York too sinful a city for a young girl. She was allowed to come to Hollywood, as the lesser of two evils.

She stuck it out on money from home and a secretarial job. She landed the lead in a little theater play, “Look Back in Anger.” It was all she needed to be flooded with offers from studios and agents. She chose Liz Taylor's agent, Kurt Frings, and accepted TV leads, but no studio contracts.

“Finally, I decided you can't get good roles in pictures unless you're under contract,” she said. “I had to choose between Fox and Warner, since Fox already has a lot of young actresses. I chose Warner.”

Do You Grow Hate Or Love?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — Sidewalk scrawls of an Alley Aristocrat:

People don't generally plant enough things.

One can plant things and create thereby his own garden of hate and love.

The opportunists are endless.

Let's start with hate. Suppose there is a human weed and neither you nor he can escape the fact he is a weed. You know it and he knows it.

What you do is plant a flower in a pot. You name the flower after him, and trust as it blossoms he will also smell as sweet.

Actually once you plant, hate usually turns to hope. The man becomes the bloom.

There are people, however, who have a sterner garden of remembrance and never forget or forgive. They are firm friends and firm hates.

I have seen a man go out in the dark and defile a large tree as a symbol of his enmity. I have seen other men nurse a seedling as a growing monument to a friend gone by.

One time, years ago, I sat with a man in the gathering dusk and watched through a dimming lace of leaves.

“I have a name for each of these trees, and each is a friend. When I see them they are here. We are together,” he said.

A number of the trees stood for people who were actually dead, but as he touched their shaggy bark he felt an oaken renewal.

I looked at the silhouette of those trees against the background of eternal hills and felt I was a stranger to the man and his idea. But I never forgot what he said.

There is a druid nearness in us all to things we do not know—a forest surprise.

Our closest neighbors are majesty and ignorance.

One who plants in hate faces the eternal peril of reaping love.

Van Doren Gets No Sympathy Here

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1959, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The New York Times said “The personal tragedy of this young man,” Charles Van Doren, “who comes from one of the most distinguished families in American letters —”

This is a clear expression of a methodical hoax which has been doping the honor and the sensibility of the American people with false standards and immoral assumptions.

It is, to be sure, a “personal tragedy” to a nasty little professional liar to be cornered and forced to confess his inexcusable indecency with its degrading effect on the character of millions of youth. But his family is not “distinguished . . . in American letters” except by the gratuitous, unprovable decree of an unidentified editorial writer who may not believe what he wrote.

Moreover, the Times was absolutely unconcerned when many patriots of this era who were set upon and, in a manner of speaking, kicked to death for fighting “communism.” These victims were not liars. They were not mercenary fakers. They were martyrs.

I have in mind at the moment Ray Van Fossen, a brave young combat veteran of the Air Force who was drummed out and robbed of his pension rights and other honorable but little emoluments because he took information from the files of one department and gave it to another department. Van Fossen was an investigator for the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The committee wanted the history of a Trotsky red who had been the first chief of the American Communist Party, known as Jay Lovestone. Van Fossen simply went to the files of the Air Force, copied the stuff and gave it to his superiors in the government service a few blocks away.

For this Van Fossen was ruined in a “personal tragedy” much more poignant than Van Doren's on all counts. His wife was desperately ill, but they were so hard up that she was hashing in a bean-ery.

Lovestone was then, as he remains to this day, the covert secretary-of-state of Dave Dubinsky's overseas political machine. Our official State Department embassies the world over were becoming infested with Communist plants in the guise of labor attache. There were many official reports to this effect and J. Edgar Hoover, for the FBI, had sustained these advices. Lovestone had amassed a frightful record of hostility to the government and people of the United States and he ignored invitations to declare his apostasy in writing.

Soon after President Eisenhower took office, he appointed Spencer Miller, an implacable red-baiter, to be assistant secretary of state with jurisdiction over these attaches. Some undoubtedly were just conventional, harmless loafers thrust into easy overseas jobs by the AFL and CIO, but others certainly were partial to Soviet Russia.

Miller set out to survey his see but ran into trouble in the palace of the International Labor Office in Geneva. Without warning, he was canned and, by poignant coincidence, which escaped the sympathies of the New York Times, just as his wife went down of cancer, never to leave her bed. Ray Moley wrote an essay in Newsweek deploring this brutality. But Miller just vanished. Even Moley had lost track of him the last time I inquired, about two years ago.

The Times and many other stewards of the freedom of the press can bawl inconsolably for Van Doren, Professor Oppenheimer, Annie Lee Moss, Jean Muir and a hundred other self-embarassed victims of their own impudence. Martin Dies, Robert Stripling, Pat McCarran, William Jenner and Robert Morris, all quarry of the same cult, were lucky to be ignored. Because the alternative for men of patriotic stamina was the ghoulid deprecation which Esquire executed at Joe McCarthy's grave last year.

Actually, the Van Dorens have only black distinction in “American letters.” And that “distinction” is an artificial creation of supercilious propagandists who would be total nonentities but for their own salutes to one another. The liar is the greatest dignitary of the Van Doren roll to date.

Ask France To Call Off Nuclear Test

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — A majority of the United Nations Thursday night asked France to call off her planned atomic test in the Sahara Desert, but the vote apparently was just short of the total necessary to put the U.N. Assembly on record against the test explosion.

The U.N. Assembly's Political Committee, on which all 82 U.N. members are represented, approved a resolution calling on France not to hold the test by a vote of 62-26 with 10 abstentions. But this was two votes short of the two-thirds majority of those voting necessary to secure adoption of the resolution in the Assembly.

The outcome of the vote was a technical victory for France, thanks to the two-thirds rule. It was obvious, however, that the Soviets and the Asian-African sponsors of the resolution would stage a major propaganda campaign contending that the majority of the U.N. oppose the French atomic test.

SLIP IN TYPE
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Newspapers, just like humans, sometimes make mistakes, and occasionally with amusing results. The Florida Women's Press Club listed these as some of the more humorous bloopers:

“Mrs. Collins (wife of Gov. LeRoy Collins) chose for the occasion a white faille sheath with brief sleeves and square neckline. Bordered the neckline and repeated the full length of the dress was a wide band of biscuits and watermelon pickles.”

“The bride's gown featured a floor-length neckline.”

A high school principal stated firmly: “In our school, we gear our curriculum to the asses, and we'll continue to do so until the people provide otherwise.”

“John Jones just returned from a visit of a few days with his mother-in-law. Mr. Jones is now undergoing treatment in the Winter Haven hospital.”

If you want to hold onto your friend tells you in confidence. One of the real joys of friendship is in knowing that you can talk freely to a friend and unburden yourself and know that what you have said will go no further.

• Don't take your friends for granted. Be as pleasant and agreeable to old friends as you are to new acquaintances, instead of expecting your friends to take you “as is”—if “as is” means at your worst. Friends deserve the best you have to offer.

• Never try to monopolize a friend's time. That is the quickest way in the world to wear out your welcome.

• Be loyal, standing up for your friends when anything is said against them and foregoing the temptation to tell things about them you ought to keep to yourself.

• Be a press agent for your friends — passing along all the good things you know about them and building them up to others.

• Let your friends do things for you. It's not enough to be willing to be a friend to others, you have to let them be a friend to you.

• Never get in competition with your friends or try to outdo them. When competition begins, friendship ends.

• Be as quick to express your pleasure at a friend's good fortune as you are to offer sympathy when trouble comes his way.

• Don't impose on your friends or use them. And be sure that you always pay your own way.

• Never repeat anything that a

YREKA, Calif. (AP)—The town was still talking today about how Jack Lichens used six sticks of dynamite to blast a stump from his back yard Wednesday.

Lichens, an appliance dealer, said he used that much dynamite on the advice of a friend whom he refused to identify.

The fall-out over the tract area where Lichens lives included chunks of wood and earth up to 15 pounds over a 600 yard radius. No one was hurt, but one home owner who found a 7-pound piece of wood on his roof called police, who are investigating.

Miss Holst Weds Mr. Hewitt in Iowa

ROCHELLE—Miss Norma Jean Holst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Holst, Belle Plaine, Iowa, became the bride on Oct. 25 of Frank Edward Hewitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Hewitt, Rochelle. The afternoon ceremony took place in First Lutheran Church, Belle Plaine with the Rev. G. T. Stacey officiating in a setting of fall flowers and candelabra.

Dale Holst, the bride's brother, was the nuptial soloist, accompanied at the organ by Miss Marcia Reed.

The bride's floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle had inserts of accordion pleats in the bouffant skirt, which swept to a brush train. The fitted bodice had short sleeves and mitts, and a scoop neckline. The veil of silk illusion was fastened to a lace cloche, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums centered with red roses.

Attendants

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Walter, Cedar Rapids. Bridesmaids were Miss Mona Wilson, Cedar Rapids, and Miss Eileen Holst, the bride's sister.

The attendants wore ballerina gowns of turquoise taffeta having scoop necklines and puff sleeves. They wore matching headbands and shoes, and carried Colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Peter Renich, Kansas City, was best man, and the groomsmen were Dean Holst, the bride's brother, Duane Holst, and John Almburg, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Assisting at the wedding reception in the church parlors were Mrs. Almburg and Mrs. James Cave, Monroe Center, aunt of the bridegroom, and the Misses Lilian Pringle and Jan Holst.

To Mexico

For traveling to Mexico the bride wore a two-piece slate-blue dress with matching feather hat and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums. The new Mrs. Hewitt is a graduate of St. Luke's School of Nursing, Cedar Rapids, where she has been on the staff. She will serve on the staff of Mountain View Hospital, Houston, Mo. Mr. Hewitt attended Coe College, Cedar Rapids, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau.

The couple will reside in Eminence, Mo., where Mr. Hewitt is manager of Spring Valley Ranch.

The Mature Parent

Give in to a Tantrum? Yes--When It's Justified

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

It's after lunch, and we've just given Buddy a cherry candy. As we replace the jar on the mantelpiece, the phone rings. We return to discover that our four-year-old has pulled a chair over to the mantelpiece, climbed up on its arm, secured the candy jar—and is in the act of helping himself to another one.

We're annoyed, not only because he's risked a fall but because our rule is only one afterlunch candy. So we rush at Buddy, and ignoring his protests, snatch the jar and the lemon candy he's about to put in his mouth.

He responds with a temper tantrum.

As he howls in despair on the floor, the meaning of his protests suddenly hits us. Buddy, we realize, was trying to tell us that instead of sneaking the second candy he had exchanged the cherry one for the lemon. And that in our state of surprised annoyance, we had closed our ears to his explanation.

Do we restore the lemon candy to Buddy?

Almost universally, child guidance books say "No." In sum, they say: "No child should be allowed to gain his end by means of a tantrum. If he does he'll explode whenever he is denied what he wants."

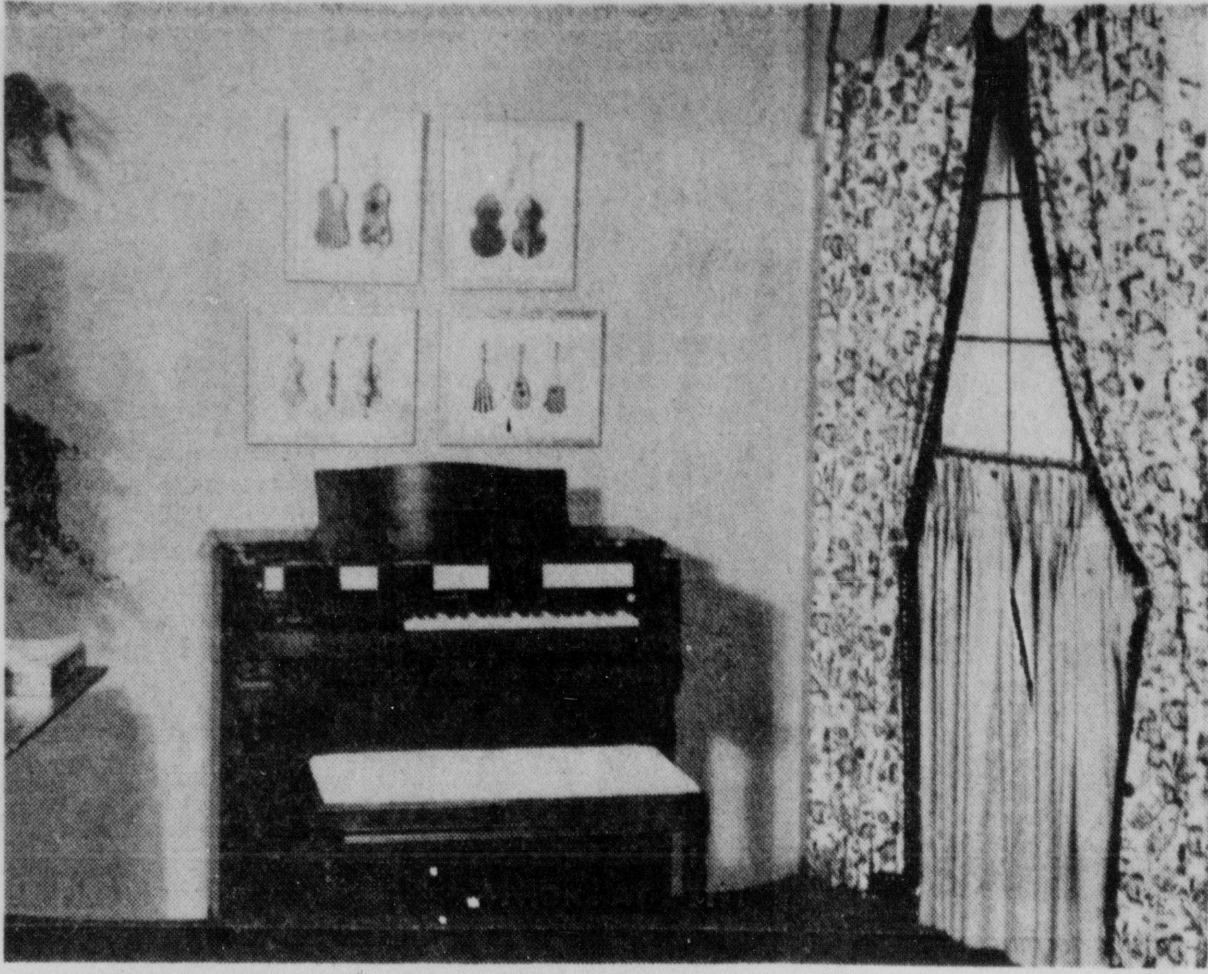

I do not agree.

Were I Buddy's mother, I would give him his candy. I would correct my mistaken judgment whether or not he chose to regard my

Private Life of President's Lady Is Just That, But With a Smile

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower, who will be 63 Saturday, has managed to keep a private life of her own during the seven years she has been in the White House. She has not sought, as Eleanor Roosevelt did, to be a national figure in her own right.

Nor, like Bess Truman, has she openly evidenced dislike for the social and public appearances that go with being first lady.

She has kept her own public appearances to a minimum. She never makes speeches, she holds no news conferences, and accepts few outside invitations.

For the entertaining she has done, Mrs. Eisenhower has gained a reputation as a gracious hostess. She charms guests and visitors with her ready smile, just the right inquiry, pleasanties and flattering comment.

Beyond these public and semi-public appearances, though, the world of Mrs. Eisenhower is private.

Mrs. Eisenhower has found a private and secluded vacation spot at Elizabeth Arden's Maine Chance health and beauty resort near Phoenix, Ariz. She went there in February 1958 and 1959 and may go again in 1960.

Mrs. Eisenhower's only other trips without the President have been to Denver to visit her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, 81.

Her most frequent companion—traveling and at home—is her only sister, Frances Moore, wife of businessman-broker, ex-Army officer George Gordon Moore.

The President at a news conference this summer said any decision about taking an apartment in Washington when he leaves office would be up to Mrs. Eisenhower. He suggested "You had better get some of your lady reporter friends to go and talk to her about it."

A lady reporter tried, but couldn't get through by phone to Mrs. Eisenhower.

But Mollie Parnis, New York dress designer who has provided clothes for Mrs. Eisenhower since pre-White House days, says she gets through without any trouble.

As a customer, Mollie Parnis finds Mamie the "easiest, kindest, most considerate, and least temperamental."

Bridal Shower

MT. MORRIS — Miss Janice Ehmen of Oregon was guest of honor when Mrs. Allen Ryan entertained with a bridal shower Wednesday evening. The gift table had a centerpiece of blue wedding bells. Other decorations included arrangements of fall flowers.

Miss Ehmen's marriage to Robert Baker will take place Saturday.

Mrs. Harley Swarts entertained the Happy Seven in her home on Tuesday. Prizes were won by Mrs. A. J. Berrier, Mrs. Norman Dietrich and Mrs. Fred Leeper.

Mrs. Dietrich will be hostess to the group on Dec. 8 for luncheon at 12:30 p.m. There will be a gift exchange by Secret Pals.

Initiation for New Members, Teachers' Club

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society of Lee and Whiteside Counties met last Friday evening in Dixon for the November meeting. After meeting for dinner, members adjourned to Loveland House for the business meeting.

Three new members were initiated: Miss Marie Thompson, South Central School, Dixon; Miss Harriet Wittberger, Lincoln School, Dixon, and Miss Elizabeth Crutchfield, Rock Falls High School.

Miss Beth Stuck, president of Dixon Chapter, conducted the business meeting, when it was decided to bring a gift for a member of the State School and a recipe for favorite Christmas cookies.

During initiation ceremonies the Coat of Arms of Delta Kappa Gamma was explained by Esther Barton and Miss Lois Sheffield. Miss Marie Dickson of Sterling High School read "The Meaning of Delta Kappa Gamma." Mrs. Helen Carpenter's solo was "Symbols of Delta Kappa Gamma."

Hostesses, representing the Dixon members, were Miss Savilla Palmer, Miss Esther Barton, Mrs. Helen Carpenter, Miss Cornelia Conibear, Miss Bernice Frost, Miss Hilda Marcucci, Miss Dorothy Schettler, Miss Irene Herrman and Miss Olga Eneroth.

Diet of Fairy Tales Gives Wrong Ideas

By DOROTHY ROE

American young people have been reading too many fairy tales, says David Mace, founder of marriage counseling services in Britain, now a visiting professor of family study at the University of Pennsylvania.

The concentrated impression given by movies, television and current romantic fiction is that the altar is the goal of every girl and boy, and is the gateway to lifelong bliss.

Sometimes the bride and groom do not live happily ever after, says Dr. Mace, writing in a new pamphlet, "What Makes a Marriage Happy?" published by the Public Affairs Committee. And the main reason is that neither partner tries hard enough.

Often the honeymoon is over when Mary first sees John tousled, unshaven and grouchy, before

No "Half-Price" Diamonds WHY?

Because:

- DIAMONDS ARE NOT SEASONABLE MERCHANDISE, nor do they undergo periodic model changes. They are a medium of International exchange, does anyone, even your best friend, offer you a $100.00 bill for $50.00 ???
- Your government's FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION, in one of many rulings, states: "It is unfair trade practice to... advertise, sell or offer to sell diamonds at prices purporting to be reduced from what are, in fact fictitious prices, or at purported reductions in prices when such are, in fact fictitious, or otherwise misleading or deceptive."
- As a reputable firm, established in Dixon for 75 years and obeying the rules of the Federal Trade Commission, Better Business Bureau AND the American Gem Society, we do not mark $100.00 diamonds at $200.00 and then offer these same diamonds at half price.

BY ALL MEANS... Please do compare diamond prices... in catalogs, "Discount Houses", Bargain Counters or any place that sells diamonds—but be sure also to COMPARE THE DIAMONDS AS WELL. You are welcome at any time to come into Trein's and use the modern equipment in our Gem Laboratory to see for yourself the DIFFERENCE IN COLOR, CLARITY AND CUTTING OF ANY GEM and to learn from trained diamond specialists the considerable effect these factors have on the value of every diamond.

New Illinois Oil Sparks Hopes

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—The first oil strike with commercial possibilities in the history of Brown County may indicate the opening of a new oil pool, says John C. Frye, chief of the state's geological survey.

Frye said Thursday the gusher that Charles Eager brought in Oct. 28 on the W. L. Davis farm near Siloam, southwest of Mount Sterling, "means somebody has struck an amazing large oil producer at a very shallow depth."

Since the strike the survey office has been besieged by questions for more information about the oil area.

Eager's well came in at 650 feet compared with the 2,500 to 3,000-foot average for most Illinois wells. Shallow wells are more profitable because less drilling is required.

The well is producing 400 barrels daily, a drop from the initial daily production figure of 800 barrels, Frye said.

The new well is a little deeper than the Colmar-Plymouth field, 20 miles to the north, said Dr. A. H. Bell of the survey. The Colmar field, which was started in 1914 and has yielded four million barrels from 500 wells, is about 20 miles to the north of Eager's strike.

Quality of the oil was reported

Fall Music Festival Is Saturday

The 12 member schools of the North Central Illinois Conference will present their annual fall music festival Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Kewanee High School gym. Tickets will be sold only at the door.

The 225-piece combined band will be directed by a guest conductor, Dr. Lucien Cailliet, musical director for a Kenosha, Wis., musical instrument manufacturer.

Dr. Cailliet was born and educated in France. He received his doctor of music degree from the Philadelphia Music Academy. He is a professional clarinet player, having performed for many years in the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra under Leopold Stokowski and Eugene Ormandy.

Dr. Cailliet has served on the faculty of the University of Southern California, and has been conductor with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Band students from Dixon High School who will begin rehearsals at 9:30 Saturday morning under Dr. Cailliet, are as follows:

Piccolo — Karen Spencer; flute — Georgia McConaughay and Carol Sodergren; clarinet — David Slick, Curt Schmitt, Lindsay Platt, Herb Nichols and Bruce Kingsley.

Alto clarinet — Rita Gehant; bass clarinet — Beverly Gilman; alto saxophone — Dick Prince; cornet — Dick Burner and Mike McKune; trumpet — Chris Lazaris; french horn — Ken Ritterspach and Douglas Stuart; baritone — David Kuter; trombone — Bob Floto; sousaphone — Phil Hey; snare drum — Bob Gross; tympani — Louise Tavenner.

Kennedy Drinks Cranberry Juice Toast; Blasts GOP

MAIRSFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) drank a cranberry juice toast Thursday night and drew a capacity audience in a Republican stronghold while Vice President Richard M. Nixon was speaking only 30 miles away.

The senator warned that a solution of the Soviet problem is at least 30 years away and blasted again at the administration farm program. He still didn't say he was a candidate.

Kennedy's latest tour, which includes seven stops, will be climaxed tonight when he delivers the keynote address at the state Democratic convention in Milwaukee.

Delegations came from as far as 150 miles and all areas of the state to hear Kennedy at the rally. The crowd was estimated at 1,500, called by backers the largest Democratic gathering in the history of the 7th district.

"The greatest issue of our times," Kennedy said, "is the attempt to straighten out our relations with the Soviet government."

Former FBI Agent to Head Labor Racket Watchdogs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's new labor racket watchdog is a former FBI agent named Daniel L. O'Connor.

His appointment hasn't been announced yet but O'Connor already is busy at work in a Labor Department office as enforcement chief of the anti corruption provisions of the new labor law.

O'Connor is assembling a staff to insure fair elections in labor unions, honest handling and reporting of union funds, and elimination of Communists and convicts from union leadership — as required under provisions of the new law.

Some of the 90 investigators formerly employed by the Senate rackets probers — the group that turned up the labor corruption story that led to passage of the new labor controls — are being interviewed for jobs on O'Connor's staff. There will be more than 100 such sleuths.

Law in Effect
Selection of O'Connor, a veteran Washington lawyer with a half dozen years' service with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, came as key sections of the new labor control law went into effect today.

Some sections of the new law became operative on Sept. 14, when President Eisenhower signed the new legislation. Others became effective today and still more will go into effect in mid-December.

Today's new provisions are amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act dealing with changes in the rules for labor-management relations rather than provisions aimed at curbing labor union corruption. The latest changes were the most controversial and include tighter bans on picketing and boycotts. They also permit the states to take over jurisdiction of labor cases over which the National Labor Relations Board declines jurisdiction.

RECEIVE AWARD—Four Dixon State School representatives inspect an achievement award presented to the faculty of the academic school at the institution at a Chicago meeting Thursday night. Seated are Dr. V. Karr McKee, superintendent (left), and Mrs. Loretta Parkman. Standing are Russell Horn and Mrs. Irene Miller.

DSS Faculty Is Honored

Thursday evening at the Furniture Club in Chicago the faculty of the academic school at the Dixon State School was presented with an achievement award for "their dedicated efforts" in teaching the retarded children at the Dixon State School. The dinner, which was the fifth annual one of its type, was a pre-runner for National Retarded Children's Week which will be from Nov. 15 to 25.

Russell O. Horn, education director of the Dixon State School, received the plaque from Victor Neumann, who represented the Lions' Clubs of Illinois, the organization who sponsors the awards.

Also attending from the Dixon State School were Dr. V. Karr McKee, superintendent; Greg Langan, school principal; Robert Brooks, Mrs. Geraldine Welty, Mrs. Mary Lack, Mrs. Loretta Parkman, Mrs. Irene B. Miller, Mrs. Zelodious Ashford, Bertha Robertson and Mrs. Russell Horn.

Dr. Otto L. Bettag, director of the Department of Public Welfare, was the speaker.

A review of the performance of the 10 members of the teaching staff reveals that they have completed a total of 143 years of teaching service. This ranges from 31 years for the senior member of the staff to two years for the newest teacher. The teachers, in compiling this record, have continued to advance by taking educational courses and participating in professional workshops. Thirty percent of the staff is presently engaged in taking college courses at night. Two more are attending summer school each summer and anticipate receiving their master's degree in special education in the near future. Every member of the staff has taken at least one college course or attended one workshop in the last three years.

Pastors to Study Discrimination

The Lee County Ministerial Assn. this week asked its public policy committee to consider certain recommendations to counteract racial discrimination in Dixon. No definite plans were announced, but the association said it hopes to find "means of changing the complexion of the situation that we face here in Dixon."

The request for committee action came after the Rev. R. S. Shultz, pastor of Second Baptist Church, a Negro congregation, told the association of the discrimination faced by local Negroes. The minister said a colored person in Dixon faces certain restrictions in regard to morticians' services and dental work, but no person of his race ever has been refused service by a local physician.

The speaker cited difficulties faced by the colored population in housing and employment. Few Dixon industries will employ colored help, he said, and on this account, some men with college training have been forced to seek common laboring jobs.

He said it is nearly impossible for a colored person to buy or rent property outside of certain prescribed areas.

The speaker concluded by saying that "Most colored people do not want to usurp a preferential treatment in a white community, but only to be able to get a job and have a home for their families."

Various department heads of the Village Board reported on activities within their departments.

Henry Dohlen of the Water Department reported that work to increase the motor power and to lower a six-foot shaft in the north well had been completed.

A representative of the Willett Co. reported that 99 per cent of the sewer plant work is completed and that a completion and cost report will be presented at the December meeting of the board.

The Finance Department offered a resolution, which was passed, authorizing the payment of special assessment bonds due Dec. 1. Russell Vold, chairman of the department, recommended to the council that insurance on the Village Hall be increased from $15,000 to $24,000 and that insurance on the contents of the building be increased from $3,500 to $5,000. The recommendation was adopted.

John McGee, chairman of the Law Enforcement Department, reported on a study that was being made on how the department should handle police calls when Mt. Morris converts to the dial telephone system. The fire district was also contacted to determine if a joint venture was suitable.

The last business of the evening concerned a letter from Harold Hoff, superintendent of schools, requesting that a street light be placed at the entrance to the elementary school. The letter was referred to Harold Ivan of the Street Department.

Noisy Thieves Move Safe, Awaken Man
A Dixon man was awakened out of a sound sleep this morning by thieves trying to move a safe from his house.

The victim, Chris Johnson, 1203 Peoria Ave., called city police and scared the thieves away. However, they took a billfold with about $35 in it.

Johnson told officers the safe contains nothing but papers of value to nobody but him.

Officers said the thieves forced two doors to get into the house. Johnson, a widower, lives alone.

Deadly Choice
REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — A rookie policeman chasing a fleeing car at 100 miles an hour suddenly faced a deadly choice:

Hit a loaded school bus, stopped to unload, or smash almost head on into a truck.

He picked the truck. Officer Thomas H. Dickson, 26, was seriously injured in the collision Thursday.

With siren screaming and red light on, Dickson said, he had chased a car several miles.

Then the police car and truck arrived at the halted school bus at the same time. With the road too narrow to pass, the officer hit his brakes and swerved into the oncoming truck.

None of the children was hurt.

Of the operation, Mrs. Heidal said "All I have done is merely correct a mistake. It is a tragic social problem. My psyche has always been female. I always thought, felt and reacted like a woman."

Cherry Still Remembers 1909 Mine Disaster

Memorial Rites Planned For 259 Fire Victims

Editor's Note—Half a century ago the day dawned brightly in an Illinois mining community about 40 miles southeast of Dixon. But before night fell, half the men of Cherry were doomed to flaming death. Here is the story of that disaster, and its observance this week by townspeople who remember.

By GLENN WOLF

CHERRY, Ill. (AP)—Fifty years ago Friday the 481 men and boys employed by the St. Paul Coal Co. said goodbye to their families and went to work for another day in the big mine at the north end of town.

More than half never returned home.

At early afternoon the bustling company town of 2,000 was plunged into near panic. A column of black smoke rolled from the shaft of the mine that, by 1909 standards, was considered one of the safest in the country.

"The mine's on fire," was shouted from house to house and in the streets.

By day's end, even though the actual toll was not known for sev-

Early Returns Show Record Corn Crop

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Early returns by Illinois harvesters show a new record corn crop of 686 million bushels but a sharp decline from the 1958 record output of soybeans.

The State Crop Reporting Service today said the indicated corn yield of 68 bushels an acre is one bushel less than the record 1958 yield.

Picking is nearly done in central and eastern districts. It is moderately retarded in much of the area north and west of the Illinois River. Seriously retarded is southeastern district picking. There about half of the corn remains in the field.

The soybean harvest amounted to 127 million bushels. The 1958 crop was 140 million bushels, the largest Illinois has produced. The 26.5 bushels an acre yield is 1.5 bushels an acre smaller than last year's yield.

Less than 10 per cent of the intended wheat acreage remains to be sown for the whole state.

eral months, 259 miners and rescue workers—half of the adult male population of Cherry—had died or were doomed in a roaring underground furnace.

And this Sunday, residents of Cherry—now numbering only 500—will hold a memorial service and recall once again that day of disaster half a century ago. None will remember it so clearly as the kind of the 259 who went to work and never returned.

That tragic fire in 1909 left an impression that led to new mine safety laws, more thorough inspections and improved mining equipment. It also left 160 widows and 470 fatherless children.

And several months after the last scorched body had been brought to the surface, investigators concluded it need not have happened. A combination of carelessness and circumstances had touched off the third worst mine disaster in the nation's history in this community.

On that chilly Saturday afternoon, housewives were doing their normal weekend cleaning. And children were playing in the muddy streets.

At the second level of the mine, 360 feet down, men chatted about their plans for Sunday. Sam Howard, 20, was being kidded and advised about his Christmas Day marriage plans.

Some complained about the darkness in the mine tunnel. A power line had broken a month earlier, and open flame torches hung at intervals in the tunnels.

A coal car loaded with six bales of hay was shoved out of the elevator at 1:15 p.m. and hitched onto a mule-powered train. A worker dropped it off a short distance later and gave it a final shove to where it could await the trip down to the mule stable on the third level.

The workman didn't see the car roll on down the track and tip a torch of flaming kerosene into the hay. At first the fire was considered of little consequence. Several men later testified they could have snuffed it out with their jackets.

Disorganized attempts to extinguish the flames only allowed the fire to gain a foothold. Within minutes, overhead wooden beams were ablaze 50 feet from the car, fanned by an effective ventilating system.

Workers who had not heard cries of "The mine's afire!" soon learned it first hand. The leaping inferno on the second level turned men into hysterical animals. Some were dropped in their tracks by blinding heat. Others ran shrieking toward avenues of escape but fell short of their goal.

Twelve volunteers made six successful rescue trips into the raging crematorium. On the seventh trip, confusion over signals developed and when the cage came to the surface four of the volunteers lay smothered atop it where they had crawled to escape the heat. The eight others were slumped in a grotesque heap on the elevator floor, burned alive.

Tons of water hauled from neighboring towns was poured into the inferno. But the water fell past the blazing second level and flooded the third level. The elevators were lowered repeatedly but came back empty and soon were stopped altogether.

Wives and mothers stood in numb agony around the mine opening.

Young Sam Howard, one of many who kept a diary of his wait for death, wrote: "There are a good many dead mules and men. I tried to save some but came near losing myself."

Late Sunday, heavy planks were thrown over the shaft opening in an attempt to smother the flames. Wet sand was dumped over the planks and the air shaft also was sealed.

Howard's diary told of repeated attempts to escape the deadly heat and gases. The last entry in the diary found beside his body, made at 12:44 p.m., Monday, read:

"Our lives are giving out. I think this is our last. We are getting weak . . ."

The town tottered on the brink of open rebellion when women realized their men might climb to the surface only to find escape cut off. Two companies of state militiamen were brought in on Wednesday after reports circulated that thudding signals had been heard from men down below.

The mine was reopened on Thursday, fire fighting was resumed and elevators whined to the surface carrying bodies piled like cordwood. Three carloads of coffins were shipped in to bury the dead.

Some families buried a father and two or three sons. Only two homes on one street with 30 houses were untouched by death.

On Saturday, one week after the fire started, eight miners stumbled from a remote tunnel and told rescue workers of 12 others at the end of the passageway too weak to walk. Their survival lifted the hearts of the bereaved town, but the compensation was small.

Rescue attempts continued until Nov. 25, when it was presumed any men still in the mine must be dead. It had become clear the fire could not be extinguished with water, and the mine was sealed with cement.

The cement covering was removed Feb. 1 and body recovery work resumed. The last body to be found was brought out the following July 7.

Restoration work put the mine back into operation for 10 years before it was finally closed permanently.

Big Ten Teams Vie For Bowl

By The Associated Press

Victories by Northwestern and Wisconsin Saturday would eliminate from title consideration all other present Big Ten contenders regardless of what they do.

Northwestern (4-1) invades Michigan State (3-2) and Wisconsin (4-1) celebrates homecoming against Illinois (2-2-1).

Wildcat and Badger triumphs would keep them locked in the lead and send them into the Big Ten finale a week hence as the only teams in the race. The wind-up sends Northwestern to Illinois and Wisconsin to Minnesota.

Snow generally over the Big Ten area could change a lot of offensive plans and enhance chances of upsets.

Northwestern is a four-point favorite as it pins title hopes and Rose Bowl trip chances on bouncing back from a 24-19 loss to Wisconsin with a victory over dangerous MSU. It is the first meeting of the two schools in 35 years.

Wisconsin, apparently, doesn't face as tough a job against Illinois as Northwestern does against the Spartans. The Badgers, hepped up with homecoming festivities, are rated a nine point edge.

Guard Bill Burrell, who played only six minutes in Illinois 20-15 loss to Michigan last week, is recovering from a leg injury and should be ready for full time duty. His leadership as team captain and his exceptional talent as a roaming linebacker make the Illini start thinking about an upset.

The Illinois-Wisconsin game will be televised regionally.

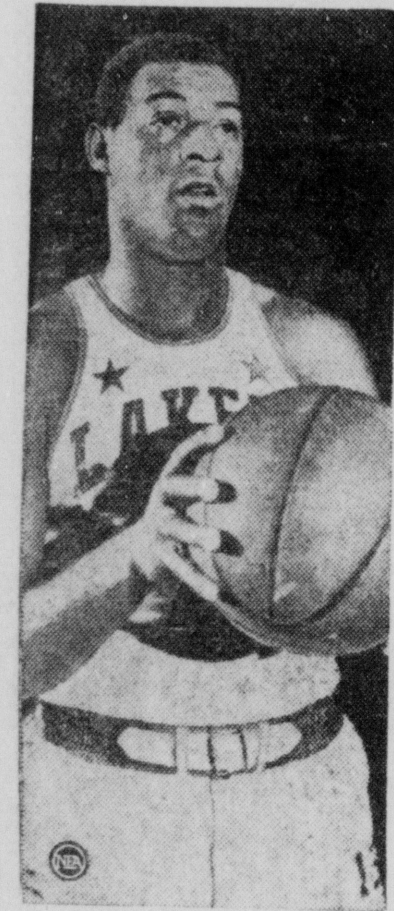

In other games, Michigan (2-3) is a five point underdog as the homecoming foe of Indiana (1-3-1). Iowa (2-3) is a touchdown choice at Ohio State (2-2-1) and Purdue (2-2-1) is a 13 point favorite at home against Minnesota (1-4).

Baylor Paces NBA

By The Associated Press

Elgin Baylor, the former All-America at Seattle, is setting a torrid scoring pace with Minneapolis in the National Basketball Assn., but he still has a long way to go to better Bob Pettit's feats just a year ago.

Pettit, a former All-America at Louisiana State, almost single-handedly rewrote the NBA record last season with his performances for the St. Louis Hawks. He set six records (1) most points scored with 2,105; (2) the highest average 29.2; (3) most field goals scored 719; (4) most free throws attempted 879; (5) most free throws scored 667; and (6) most 60-point games in a season, 3.

So far Baylor has set one NBA mark with his record 64 points against the Boston Celtics last Sunday. In addition he leads in total points with 398 in 11 games on 149 field goals and 100 free throws.

Baylor came up with 33 points Thursday night against Detroit, but it wasn't enough to keep the Lakers from losing to the Pistons 107-93 in the first game of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden before 9,247.

The Syracuse Nats blew a 25-point lead in the second game against New York, but forged ahead again in the final minutes to beat the Knicks 113-104.

Wilt Chamberlain tossed in 55 points to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 124-116 win over Cincinnati in the other NBA game of the night.

Illini Bring Big Line, Backfield Speed North

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Illinois brings its heavy line and backfield speed to Camp Randall Saturday to shake the new and lofty perch Wisconsin shares in Big Ten football.

The Badgers, ranked seventh in the current Associated Press poll, are expected to weather the rocking to the delight of a Homecoming crowd of well over 60,000.

After an uphill fight resulting from an opening conference loss to Purdue, Wisconsin last week gained a foothold on the top rung of the Big Ten ladder in moving aside the previous lone occupant, Northwestern, 24-19.

Now in their still new role, the Badgers find themselves up against an old rival that could make the long climb a lot of wasted effort.

Retiring Coach Ray Eliot brought his first Illini squad to Madison in 1943. He went home a winner that day, and there's a lot to be said for finishing things right. This is his last out-of-town game.

Though the Illini have been an in-and-out club this season, halfback Johnny Counts and Marshall Starks rank with the best a Big Ten team can shake loose.

And for the first time this season, the Badgers will face a line as heavy as their own. The Illini starting linemen average 222, Wisconsin's 221.

This will be the eighth Homecoming appearance in Madison for the Illini with the last Wisconsin loss registered in 1922.

The teams have met 35 times in a series dating back to 1895, Wisconsin holding the edge 17-13. Five games ended in a tie.

A total of 17 Badgers will be playing their final home game. This senior group includes several All-America candidates.

They are quarterback Dale Hackbart, tackles Dan Lanphear and Jim Heineke, and guard Jerry Stalcup.

Watkins Leading Gainer in Role He Disliked

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Fullback Tom Watkins is the leading ground gainer in college football this fall and at a position he didn't want to play. The 182-pound junior, who reached Iowa State by way of Chicago and Los Angeles, has run for 707 yards in eight games. He should add to that appreciably in Saturday's game here with San Jose State.

Watkins, who has played five positions in football, had to be sold on playing fullback.

"We realized last spring that Tom's greatest potential was at fullback," said Coach Clay Stapleton. "We used persuasion and a little psychology—we did a selling job."

The quiet Chicagoan was overlooked in early games by opponents who concentrated on the Cyclones' tough tailback Dwight Nicholson, the country's No. 2 total offense leader.

The outstanding inside and outside running of Watkins and Nicholson has brought Iowa State a 6-2 record and a tie for second place in the Big Eight Conference.

Watkins has good speed but he lacked the desire to play fullback because of the spinner play—so vital to the Iowa State single wing offense.

Floyd Hints Rematch Early Next Year

NEWTOWN, Conn. (AP)—Former heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, who ought to know, says his rematch with Ingemar Johansson will be held "early next year."

Patterson, who is training here in a determined effort to regain boxing's richest prize, expects the bout will be held "any place but New York."

But if the fight is going to be held early in 1960, the size of the expected crowd and weather conditions would dictate a Southern or Pacific Coast outdoor site.

At New York Thursday, Johansson said he would prefer to fight next spring in New York. In Göteborg, Sweden, Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's adviser, also put in a pitch for New York.

Meantime, at Miami, Fla., Vincent J. Vellella said he would sue to attach every avenue of Johansson's income if the champion refuses to fight Patterson in Miami's Orange Bowl March 1.

Hunter Not Lost; Seeks His Beagle

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Fred Stevenson and his Beagle hound went hunting Thursday in a wooded area of northwestern Pennsylvania.

Stevenson, about 72, of Lakewood, Ohio, failed to return at 5 p.m. to a home where he had been staying. A search party was formed.

Five hours later one of the party spotted Stevenson walking along a country road. As it turned out, Stevenson wasn't lost.

His first question was, "Have you seen a Beagle hound around? I've been looking for him all night."

At last report the hound was still lost.

A LOOK THRU

The SPORTS Eye

By JIM GLESSNER

Where has this week gone? Here it is Friday again and time for the ol' star-gazer to take a look at the Telegraph Football Contest and make his choices. Everyone last week, including me, really goofed as upsets were the rule of the day. However, maybe we'll get on the winning track this week.

Army over Oklahoma, Syracuse over Colgate, Navy over Geo. Washington, ILLINOIS over Wisconsin, Indiana over Michigan, Iowa over Ohio State, Iowa State over San Jose State, Northwestern over Michigan State, Purdue over Minnesota, LSU over Mississippi State, Mississippi over Tennessee, Missouri over Kansas State, Notre Dame over Pitt, Penn State over Holy Cross, Arkansas over SMU, Texas over TCU, Air Force over Arizona, Washington over California, Walnut over Dunlap, Princeton over Prophetstown, Yale over Princeton, Texas A&M over Rice. Well there they are. What's your pick?

The John Rohr's have entered their Offenhausen midget in the 100 miller to be held at Houston, Texas, on the 22nd. Roger Ward will be their driver. Their car has been doing well, placing second at Terra Haute, third at DuQuoin, and first at New Bremen, Ohio, in 100 mile races recently.

Mt. Morris opens its basketball season the 27th with a home game with the Rock Falls Rockets. Included in their 20 game schedule this year are games with Byron, Erie, Lanark, Oregon, Polo, Prophetstown, Milledgeville, Mt. Carroll, Stillman Valley, Forreston, Dixon and Rochelle.

Dixon High School will open its new gymnasium with its first game November 27th. It will be called Lancaster Gymnasium in honor of the late Allen H. Lancaster who was principal of Dixon High School during the years 1921 to 1932. In '32 he became superintendent of schools and served in that capacity till 1955.

The feature event will be the game with Fulton and all will be admitted free to this opening game.

Before I forget, the game between Wisconsin and Illinois will be broadcast on WREX-TV and probably WHBF-TV this Saturday. Should be a corker.

Grid Picture Will Clear

By The Associated Press

The scrambled college football picture should get a little clearer this weekend and set up some terrific showdown battles next week.

But these showdowns are going to be preceded by a lot of tugging and pulling tomorrow as teams like Louisiana State, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Texas, Georgia and Washington battle for prime bowl spots or conference titles, and in some instances both.

The weekend gets off to a rousing start tonight with South Carolina (5-2) meeting Miami (4-3) in the Orange Bowl, and Atlantic Coast Conference member North Carolina State (1-6) travelling to Los Angeles' Coliseum to face UCLA (2-3-1).

Buried beneath the wealth of top games Saturday is the nation's No. 1 team in the current Associated Press poll, Syracuse, who faces upstate New York rival Colgate, with a 1-6 record. Syracuse (7-0), a prime bowl participant, tops the nation in offense, defense and scoring.

Texas No. 2, with its 8-0 mark, can nail down at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title, and put a foot in the door as the Cotton Bowl host, if it gets by tough Texas Christian (5-2). Just in case Texas fails, Arkansas, ranked 20th, could take the conference lead with a victory over Southern Methodist.

Third-ranked LSU, 7-1, shorn of its top rating last Saturday by Tennessee's 14-13 victory and relegated to a contender for the Southeastern Conference and Sugar Bowl race, faces weak Mississippi State (2-5).

The SEC will have two other whopping good games as 5th-ranked Mississippi (7-1) gets its chance at Tennessee (5-1-1) (No. 9). LSU, Ole Miss and Tennessee are tied for third in the SEC with 3-1 records. The runnerup, eighth-ranked Auburn, 6-1 overall and 4-1 in the SEC, is ineligible for a post-season bowl, but hopes to derail first place Georgia's title ambitions. A Georgia (7-1) victory gives it the SEC title with a 6-0 record, and the inside to the Sugar Bowl.

Things are lively in the Big Ten too, with Northwestern (No. 6) tied for the conference title with Wisconsin (No. 7) after losing to the Badgers last week. Wisconsin, 6-1 in the conference, meets tough Illinois while Northwestern (6-1) takes on upset-minded Michigan State. A ship by either spells disaster in the march to the Rose Bowl.

The other two members of the top ten, Southern California (No. 4) and Penn State (No. 10) have formidable opposition. Southern Cal (7-0) meets Baylor, Penn State (7-1) knooed from the unbeaten ranks by Syracuse last week but still prime bowl material, takes on tough Holy Cross (6-1).

With Far West Big Five Southern Cal meeting an outsider, runner-up Washington (2-1) hopes to advance its Rose Bowl hopes against California (0-2). Southern Cal is banned from post-season competition by the NCAA.

Spartans Aching to Bump Off Wildcats

Look and Mates Could Do It Too

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State thoroughly enjoyed playing the spoiler and bumping Purdue out of Big Ten title contention with a 15-0 shutout last Saturday.

The Spartans are aching to do it again against Northwestern here Saturday.

Michigan State still has a mathematical—although almost fantastically improbable—chance for Rose Bowl honors itself. If MSU beats the Wildcats and Northwestern loses or ties the final game and if Wisconsin suffers two losses or a loss and a tie, Michigan State could back in.

Duffy Daugherty's mostly sophomore troops have been an up and down team this season.

They looked good breezing through the three conference wins, Michigan (34-8), Indiana (14-6) and Purdue (15-0).

But they lost on the road to Iowa (34-8) and Ohio State (30-24).

Faulty pass defense was mainly responsible for the two Big Ten losses.

Dean Look, a converted halfback, has proven himself a versatile quarterback. He threw for two touchdown passes against Purdue and also has made consistent yardage rushing, mainly on roll-outs.

Herb Adderley and Gary Bellman have been good gainers at right and left half. Both have good speed and Adderley has been the workhorse of the backfield.

Blanche Martin, senior fullback, was a question mark factor as the game approached. Martin was hospitalized with a shoulder strain.

Carl Charon, number two at the position, is out for the season with a broken ankle received against Purdue. Park Baker, lightest man on the squad at 162 pounds, has been running with the first string. Daugherty alternates offensive and defensive elevens as much as possible.

Daugherty isn't talking down his team prior to the game.

"Our sophomores are getting better every game," he said. "I think we can match Northwestern for speed and have a good chance."

SHE'LL HAVE LAST WORD—Mrs. Arnold Ziegler, 22, a winsome blonde wife of a minister and mother of one, has been certified by the Iowa High School Athletic Association, in Ames, Iowa, to officiate boys' high school basketball games. She played on the Olin, Iowa, High School girls' basketball team from 1950 to 1954, and in 1947 was Iowa's Queen of the Furrow. (AP Wirephoto)

McIntyre Fires Red Wings to 6-5 Victory

By The Associated Press

Jack McIntyre tore a page out of Bronco Horvath's book in leading the Detroit Red Wings into undisputed possession of second place in the National Hockey League. But the Boston center and his linemates still comprise the circuit's highest scoring combination.

McIntyre tallied twice as the Wings beat goalie Don Simmons three times in the third period Thursday night for a 6-5 victory over the Bruins. His winning goal came at 18:12 just when it looked as if the game was going to settle nothing. Guy Gendron got two goals for Boston as the Bruins ran up a 5-2 lead.

Horvath, the league's leading scorer, failed to register for the second straight game but he picked up an assist to run his total points to 26. Horvath's linemate Johnny Bucyk scored the line's only goal to tie Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion for second. Each has 20 points. The other member of the trio, Vic Stasiuk, also assisted on Bucyk's goal for a total of 19 points.

Geoffrion didn't figure in any of the scores as the Canadiens ran their undefeated string to 11 games with a 3-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. Jacques Plante posted his first shutout of the season with Phil Goyette furnishing most of the offensive power. Goyette got the Canadiens first two goals and Dickie Moore added the third.

MICHIGAN (4-1) defeats Southern Illinois (3-2) at Carbondale.

In other games Eastern Illinois (1-4) is at Illinois Normal (0-5) and Northern Illinois invades Hillsdale for a non-league affair.

Wheaton (5-0-1) will shoot for its seventh straight CCI crown before bowing out of the league. The Crusaders face Augustana (4-2).

Illinois Wesleyan (5-1) could take the crown if it wins at Carroll (3-2-1) and Augie surprises Wheaton.

Elmhurst (9-6) also makes its last appearance in the CCI at Millikin (1-5) while Lake Forest (2-4) is at North Central (2-2-2) to complete the CCI card.

TOKYO (AP)—Rain and slippery courts combined today to keep alive the Philippines' faint hopes of capturing the Japan National Tennis singles championship.

Davis Cupper Raymond Deyro, behind two sets to one in his semifinal tussle with Barry MacKay, of Dayton, Ohio, was given a day's respite when the big American star asked that the match be postponed because of slippery courts.

MacKay was leading Deyro, the only Filipino left in the tournament, at that point 6-0, 4-6, 6-2.

The match was held in the fourth set at one-all. It will be resumed Saturday.

Earlier, Japan's Davis Cupper Atsushi Miyagi defeated his countryman Masao Nagasaki, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5. He will meet the winner of today's postponed match in the final on Sunday.

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan State today seeks its fifth straight Big Ten cross country running championship and Western Michigan will try to retain its crown in the Central Collegiate Conference meet.

Both meets, starting with the Big Ten competition, will be held on the Washington Park course on Chicago's South Side. Up to six inches of snow was predicted.

Michigan State, led by NCAA champion Fordy Kennedy, tops a Big Ten field in which only Purdue and Northwestern are not entered. In addition to MSU, full teams will carry the colors of Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Ohio State has entered three runners and Illinois two.

Notre Dame, paced by Ron Gregory, is rated the chief threat to Western Michigan, in the CCC. Other leading contenders include Marquette and Drake.

Junior Class To Give Play

MT. MORRIS — The junior class of Mt. Morris High School will present a three-act comedy, "January Thaw," Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Setting for the play is the Herbert Gage home in New England. The time is the present.

Mrs. Gage, Janet Wiggins, buys an old home in Connecticut and unbeknown to her husband Herbert, Jim Tracey, the original owners of the home have the right to live there the rest of their lives. Mr. and Mrs. Rockwood and their "wolf" son Matt, played by Alan Copeland, Betty Stauffer and Dave Powers respectively, are very set in their ways and refuse any money offers to leave, given by Gage's lawyer, Mr. Loomis, played by Bob Sweet.

The Gage children, Barbara, Rosalyn Pierce; Paula, Diane Orr; and Sarah, Sally Stevens, seem indifferent to the whole mess. Barbara is interested only in marriage to George, a young college graduate, played by Dave Miller.

Frieda, the maid, played by Rosemary Manis leaves the Gage household when the Rockwoods' son Matt comes home. She says he has a reputation of a "wolf."

Uncle Walter, who chews tobacco, played by Keith Davis, and Carson, the constable, played by Jim Kinsey tend to make the situation more interesting by the minute.

The play is under the direction of William Durham, dramatics director of Mt. Morris High School.

The Oregon Chapter of the FFA took part in the Section One Grain and Fatastock Judging Contest at Pecatonica Nov. 7.

Participating were Ken Long, Bill Martin, Ron Warner, Bill Davis, and Dale Barlow.

The boys placed seventh in both divisions.

The Agriculture Advisory Council of the Oregon High School has announced that the first in a series of ten meetings on topics of the greatest interest to area farmers will be held Thursday Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. in the high school agriculture room.

LeRoy Toms, a Dixon farmer, will tell how he best uses and stores high moisture corn. Toms was on a panel that discussed this question at the University of Illinois last year.

About 40 friends and neighbors of the late Ellis Dentler, Forreston, helped to harvest his 80 acre corn crop last week. Thirteen cornpickers and 14 wagons and tractors were used to haul the corn from the field to the crib.

The Polo Ramblers 4-H Club met last week at Buffalo Grange Hall with 20 members attending.

Larry Potter gave a talk on new hog houses and Sherry Adams told how to select a beef calf. Bill and Steve Cross gave a demonstration on splicing electrical wires.

The Grove Girls 4-H Club met recently in Legion Hall and installed officers for the coming year.

Installed were Annetta Dewey, president; Laura Lohse, vice-president; Ellen Drew, secretary; Barbara Ford, treasurer; and Jeanette Gall, reporter.

Demonstrations were given by Ellen Drew, Carolyn Gilton, and Laura Lohse.

Smokey Bear, that lovable forest fire preventer, has finally made big time, and Broadway to boot.

The advertising firm which plans the yearly campaign, has erected a huge hand painted version of Smokey on the rooftop of a building at 49th Street and Broadway just up from Times Square.

The recent fires in California and Missouri are warnings that people should take heed of Smokey's advice.

FARM ROUNDUP
WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm production this year will set a new record.

This was the substance of an Agriculture Department crop report issued late Tuesday saying that crops have progressed sufficiently to put them up to last year's record level.

But production of livestock and livestock products, when added to crops, will make the full farm production the largest ever, officials said.

DOTTIE DIXON'S DIARY

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Garrison and son, Michael, have moved to Dixon, and are residing at 838 S. Forest Ave. Mr. Garrison, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Garrison, recently was discharged from the Marine Corps. Mrs. Garrison is the former Mary Biehle, daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Eberhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. Luverne Swanson, 1015 Third St., attended Dad's Day last weekend at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb. They were the guests of their son, Wayne, a sophomore at NIU.

Miss Beverly Bollman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bollman, Rt. 2, was one of 61 freshmen who were honored at School Day exercises Nov. 4 at Monmouth College with Honors-at-Entrance recognition.

GENE LEBRE SERVICING TV and radio, all makes. Formerly with Dixon Appliance Co. Eleven years experience. 714 W. First. Phone AT-4-9181.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich entertained at dinner Wednesday for Mrs. Glenn Pelton, Kissimmee, Fla., a former Dixonite. Mrs. Pelton is here for a few days after attending the recent wedding of her niece, Linda Cron, Nelson. Other guests of the Dietrichs were Mrs. Fred Krahler and Mrs. Donald Volz.

Miss Jane Pires, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morey Pires, has been named song chairman of her sorority, Alpha Xi Delta, at Monmouth College, where she is a freshman pledge.

duction the largest ever, officials said.

During October, products improved for cotton, sorghums, rice and sugar beets. But offsetting them were small reductions in corn and soybean prospects.

The report said harvest is lagging behind the rapid advance of a year ago, but is ahead of the unusually slow pace of the cool, wet fall of 1957.

The corn estimate was reduced one-half of one per cent from the October forecast. Nevertheless, this crop still was the largest of record, being 16 per cent above last year's and 35 per cent above average. Production in the Corn Belt proper was said to be 20 per cent above last year.

Livestock feed grain production is well above any previous year. But the supply of hay and forage available for winter feeding was described as below last year's abundant stores although a little better than average.

Students Say Honesty Is Best Policy

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Is honesty the best policy? A high school class here evidently thinks so—now.

The students at Freehold Regional High School were taking a lesson by their American history teacher, Melvin C. Willett.

The class held a discussion on rigged television quiz shows, and in the words of Willett:

"As we discussed the subject, I became perturbed at the attitude of most of the students. They felt that because of the big money prizes involved and because it was not illegal, it was all right for quiz contestants to accept answers."

So Willett made up a real whopper of an American history quiz.

He hinted to nine of the students that he wouldn't mind if they looked at the answers lying on his desk. They did.

The nine got perfect scores. Willett flunked the rest of the class.

"They all objected violently," he said. "complaining about the unfairness of the situation. 'All right', I told them, 'we will now have another discussion on rigged TV quiz shows.'"
